 - (b) Subject to written approvals from Google and Seller, Buyer may implement its own or a third party hotword engine(s) for Company Hotword or a third party's Hotword(s). If Buyer implements its own hotword engine(s), Buyer will work with Seller and Google to ensure that all hotword engines are implemented in a compatible manner on a device and that each performs its function in the manner intended prior to its approval as an Android STB;
 - (c) Google's Hotword must directly launch Google Search unless otherwise approved by Google in writing and only the Google Hotword can invoke Google Search;
- 3.7. Google Legal Terms. Buyer may not prevent Seller from making the appropriate Google Terms of Service, Privacy Policy and Legal Notices (as provided and specified by Google) available to the End User.

For clarity, such cease of the rights and licenses will not require Buyer to disable any Android STBs already deployed to End Users at the time of the termination or distributed to Buyer by Seller according to purchase orders or binding forecasts existing at the time of termination. Such Android STBs are still subject to section 4.2;

- (b) Seller will immediately cease reproducing, offering, or distributing the Google Applications;
- (c) Seller shall not be liable to Buyer for any damages resulting solely from termination of the Google Applications due to the breach by Buyer of its obligations under the Agreement or these Google Android Terms.
